RIPLEY TALKS

After Being on the Stand Five Hours He Concluded His Evidence

VINDICATES GOV. TAYLOR

Never at Anytime Heard Him Make the Statements Alleged Case Closes Today.

JURY GETS THE CASE TOMORROW

Frankfort, Ky., April 16.—Captain Harriett Ripley concluded his testimony at 11 o'clock this morning, after having been on the stand for five hours.

In the prosecution today, the prosecution sought to make him say that he told J. B. Matthews that he, Ripley, knew enough to clear Taylor. He declared he did not remember ever saying anything of the kind, but that he probably told Matthews about seeing Yontsey leave Taylor's office on the morning of January 29.

Captain Ripley said that was all he knew that could tend to help Taylor. It is thought that all the evidence will be in this afternoon.

Arguments are expected to begin in the morning.

Attorney Ben Williams and "Punch" wealth's Attorney Franklin will make the argument on the side of the commonwealth, and Attorney Neal and Attorney Major or Johnson will present the case of the defense. The jury will receive the case Wednesday afternoon.

Among other things, stated by Captain Ripley in his testimony yesterday were first in response to a question as to when he met Gov. W. S. Taylor and what took place.

"It was on the sixteenth day of January, 1900, I remember the day because the killing of Scott by Colson and that W. J. Bryan was to speak at a banquet here. Several boys came with me for the purpose of getting up a military company at our home. We called to see Gov. Taylor and he referred us to the adjutant general. I went home that afternoon."

"When we were again in Frankfort."

"On Monday, January 23, I went into Taylor's office. He stood leaning on the fireplace looking sadly. I expressed sorrow at his appearance. He remarked that these were terrible times, and said that some irresponsible crowd might kill Governor and him."

"I referred to the object of my visit, the getting of equipment for my company, and he responded: 'My God, haven't you gotten your company's money?' or 'Your company ready yet?' I left him and went home that afternoon."

"Did you see Taylor again that day?"

"Yes, sir, I went home on a train leaving here at 4 o'clock. In the afternoon, and saw Gov. Taylor and Judge George Denny on that train."

"What, if any, conversation do you or any of your party have with Taylor relative to the proper organization of the Henry county company?"

"I talked with Gov. Taylor about the necessity for the consent of the county judge to the formation of a company, and he said that Gov. Bradley had looked into the matter and set a precedent that it was not necessary."

In regard to what Ripley is alleged to have told Gov. Bradley, he said: "Well, sir, I had such a conversation with them, and they told substantially what I told them, I suppose, though what I meant was what I have told here this morning. I have but an indistinct recollection of the conversation that they testified to. The

Reported That Former Supt. Marhan is to Succeed Chief Engineer Sloan, at Chicago.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE DIRECTORS

Mr. H. U. Wallace, the lately appointed superintendent of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central railroad, is in the city. He arrived last night from Louisville, accompanied by Assistant Superintendent H. R. Dill, of the Evansville district, who has been acting superintendent and Roadmaster Downs. They will all leave on a special train tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock for an inspection tour of the Louisville division.

Superintendent Wallace's rise has been very rapid. Five years ago he graduated from college and entered the railroad service. He has held several important and responsible positions, among them office of roadmaster of the present division, assistant superintendent of the Evansville district and superintendent of the Freeport division.

He is a son of General Manager J. F. Wallace.

Mr. W. J. Marhan will pass through Paducah tomorrow from New Orleans en route to Chicago. It is rumored that he will succeed David Sloan as chief engineer with headquarters at Chicago. There will be many more changes made but it is not known exactly when they will take place.

Mr. Marhan is the son of the Illinois Central and the officials will endeavor to have all changes completed by that time in order to enter the new year as smoothly as possible.

The walls of the dispatcher's office have been scored and the tracks are cleaned from leaves and other trash. Trainmaster Banks will endeavor to have all completed when President Stevenson Fish and the board of directors arrive. He is having the union depot and dispatcher's office cleaned up so as to have his territory make the best appearance of any other portion of the whole system.

The president and board of directors probably will be here the latter part of the week.

Dick Hampton, a colored employee of the Illinois Central, was injured at the freight depot yesterday. His right leg was painfully cut and bruised but his injuries are not serious.

POLICE COURT.

The grand larceny case against Mose Bottomlee, of Livingston county, charged with stealing $30 from C. P. Gness, was finished in Judge Sanders' court this morning and the defendant acquitted.

Two weeks ago Gness swore out the warrant, charging that while eight miles up the Tennessee river, getting out ties, he went into the leanhouse of Bottomlee and struck a match to light a cigarette. Shortly afterwards, having occasion to again feel in his pocket, he missed his wallet and returned to the shantyboat expecting to find it there. He asked the wife of Bottomlee where her husband was, and she said he had left for a rabbit hunt. He failed to show up, resulting in Gness tracing him to the city.

Bottomlee proved where he got the money he spent, and there was no evidence against him.

Walter Lindsey and Rosa McGuire were tried for a breach of ordinance and fined $10 and $5 respectively. Lindsey, for maliciously cutting the woman, was dismissed.

Mark Edwards and Ella Shirley, colored, were fined $20 for immorality. Ed Heuley was fined $1 for a plain drink.

The condition of Albert Winfrey is unimproved today. The bullet has not yet been located and City Physician Sanders says the bullet must have struck a process vertebra and deflected, and in such a case the bullet's location can hardly be determined. The doctor spent the greater part of the day yesterday probing for the ball.

Officer Will Rogers, who yesterday morning stated to two reporters on different papers that he did not shoot and heard none, afterwards admitted to Mayor Lang that he shot in the air to frighten a negro who got off the train and ran. No charge has been preferred against the officer, as the shooting was doubtless accidental.

METROPOLIS IS LIVELY

THIS IS ELECTION DAY AND THEY HAVE SMALL-POX BESIDES.

Six Cases Said to Have Resulted From a Rummage Sale Last Week.

Excitement runs high in Metropolis today. Besides six cases of smallpox it is election day. Last night everything was free. The numerous candidates gave free lunch and free drinks.

The smallpox in Metropolis is increasing and the inhabitants are very much alarmed.

Several days ago one of the churches there conducted a "rummage sale," in which a lot of cast-off clothing was sold. It has developed that part of the clothing was infected with smallpox germs. Owing to the fact that many of the citizens attended and assisted in the sale, much alarm resulted.

There are now five cases among the children and one among the white residents of the town. A member of the Strick family has taken the dread disease, but this is the only case among the white citizens.

BIRTHS.

Born to the wife of Mr. Frank Enders, the popular Illinois Central railroad fireman, of Jackson street, this morning a ten pound girl.

MURDERER'S ASSAULT.

Jailer Kivel, at Eldersville, was yesterday the victim of a murderous assault from two prisoners.

One was named Chas. Day and the other Dallow.

In some way they broke jail and got possession of the jailer's pistol, shooting him in the arm.

They then knocked him down, and perhaps fatally injured him, by striking him with a brick.

One of the prisoners escaped, but the other was captured. Today Jailer Kivel was reported very low.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

Everybody wants to attain to conspicuousness and shining virtues, but very few work after the lowly graces, the humble and sweet herbs, which grow beneath the shadow of the Life-Giving Tree.—St. Francis De Sales.

The young man who claims a policeman shot him is doubtless addicted to dreams. Who'd ever believe a policeman hit anything he shot at?

The Sun does not agree with the mayor about keeping the proceedings of the board of health a secret, there is no way to abolish things detrimental that acts as well as publicity. While there are times that acts of public officials might be made star chamber affairs they are very rare and should be few. Public officials are but the representatives of the public, they are a few representing the many, and their acts when subjected to the scrutiny of the many are always more circumspect.

The Elks carnival promises to be the biggest entertainment Paducah ever had, and will doubtless be liberally patronized by people at home as well as the thousands of people who will come from other cities. It will be a great and lasting benefit to Paducah, and will show that her citizens can be successful in what they undertake, no matter how large and important. It may be. It behooves every good citizen to lend his aid and influence towards making the carnival a credit to the city.

According to reports the Boers have decided to lift out privateers and prey on the English transports that are used to haul the munitions bought in this country and shipped from New Orleans. It is not known who is backing them, but the general opinion is that the Boers have friends who will furnish the money for fitting up the privateers. This step was decided on, it is alleged, after the injunction suit to restrain the British from shipping more munitions out of New Orleans was dismissed in the New Orleans court.

The claimor for the return of Gov. W. S. Taylor to Kentucky to be jailed without bond and probably convicted by a made-to-order political jury of a crime of which he is not guilty, will in all probability receive the defeat it deserves. The trial of Capt. Garnett Ripley has developed no new facts in the Greel murder, and there is no more reason now why Gov. Taylor should be given over to Democratic injustice than there was a year ago. The commonwealth has established nothing new, and Capt. Ripley denies that Gov. Taylor over made the statements he is alleged to have told Gov. Bradley and Judge Yost that no made. Gov. Taylor says he never uttered such words, and Capt. Ripley corroborates him. Where is the man who can testify that he did make them?

Over in Korea they have a very quick, businesslike way of doing things. The other day in Seoul, the capital city, the government benched Kim Yung Chin for plotting to run in a rank outsider as heir to the throne, displacing the prince imperial, son of the murdered queen. The two factions are known as the Kim and Min factions, and when the plot was disclosed a fight ensued. The Min faction was victorious, and the leader of the Kim faction promptly benched. The dead man's friends appeared in such overwhelming numbers that the tide of battle was turned and the doughty Min caught and banished for fifteen years. Enough of the cabinet ministers resigned to precipitate a cabinet crisis, and several prominent officers were arrested for conspiracy. The latest advice is that "the crisis continues."

It is announced in dispatches from Washington that the abolition of the army canteen has alarmingly increased drunkenness and riotous conduct among the private soldiers. The information that comes to the war department from all over the country bears out the assertion, although there are not enough official reports in to show by statistics the increased number of court martials, that the effect of the anti-canteen law is just what it was claimed all along it would be by people in a position to know, and just the opposite of what it was intended to be. In Washington since the anti-canteen law went into effect several new saloons have opened near Fort Meyer and there has been a decided increase in the number of saloons in the village of Phoenix, Va., adjoining the military reservation on which Fort Monroe is located. Officers say that if the soldiers would confine themselves to light drinks in these saloons the evil would not be so great, but instead of drinking the light beers and wines such as were sold in the post canteens they drink cheap whiskey and other heavy drinks, and are led into gambling games and other forms of vice which would not exist within the limits of a military post. All this, says the dispatch, is directly contrary to the experience when the canteen was first put into operation.

Our Sewerage System.

Paducah's system of sanitary sewerage is one of the best in the United States. Mayor Lang was opposed to it when he went into office, and now is one of its most enthusiastic advocates. It has been in use for over two years—one portion about three years—and has never been cleaned since it was completed. It has never given any trouble whatever since it was finished, and is the only kind of system that should have been constructed in Paducah. It was built under the supervision of one of the finest sanitary engineers in the United States, and as City Engineer Wilcox said yesterday, "there has never been any complaint of the system, and it has given us no trouble. The only stoppages we have had, two or three in all, were caused by foreign bodies such as bricks and bottles, which someone had thrown into the pipes."

Thus it is seen that when a newspaper boldly asserts in regard to the sewerage "that it will cost the citizens of Paducah $100,000 or more to remedy and make adequate, the most inefficient sewerage plant ever planned off by ignorance or ineptitude, or worse, on an unsuspecting people," it displays an ignorance that is equalled only by its mendacity. The people of Paducah do not need to be told whether they have a good system of sewerage or not.

AN AGREEABLE SURPRISE.

A REPORTER'S VISIT TO PADUCAH'S FURNITURE FACTORY.

It was the writer's pleasure to be conducted, by the courtesy of the management, through the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company's enormous factory, at the corner of Third and Tennessee streets, and although having spent a life time in Paducah my "eyes were opened" and my surprise great at the great strides this firm has made in the manufacture of furniture. Their factory is a model of completeness, employing a regular force of over 100 skilled workmen. The factory embraces two full city blocks, their warehouse two stories and 200x60 feet, with river and railroad at its doors, making shipping and receiving facilities unequalled. They carry a stock of about 4,000,000 feet of lumber on their yards thus insuring at all seasons thoroughly air seasoned lumber to put in their product. Their product is marketed in Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and one large jobbing house in New York exports. This territory is covered by five experienced salesmen who have kept the factory running at night for the past year to fill their orders. Furniture, furniture, furniture! It is made by the car load and to see the output of this factory puts one to thinking where on earth can so much furniture be consumed, though it is a great deal more as evidenced by the empty warehouses. After a thorough inspection of this prosperous firm's factory, I next visited their enormous salesrooms at 111-113 South Third street, where is constantly kept a superb line of furniture calculated to please the most fastidious or the plainest taste. The hustle and hurry here of the busy salesman and eager purchasers plainly showed cause for the activity shown in the factory. To me it would seem Paducah should be proud, very proud, of such an institution and show her appreciation at all times by her loyal support. This firm is the life and hope of many a happy household and the cause of "good trade" with many a Paducah merchant. Buyers of furniture, give them a call, help yourselves first, and at the same time help a deserving firm, and that but not least, your beautiful city.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

THE SUN'S DAILY STORY.

PT'S SLIPPERS.

By FIED MYHON COLBY. Copyright, 1901, by the Daily Story Pub. Co.

You have all read of Jack's Seven-League Boots and of Cinderella's Little Glass Slipper, but I dare say you have never heard of the Princess P'ta shoe. Yet they were quite as wonderful in their way as those others that you read of in your story books. They went all the way through the air from hundred-gated Thebes, on the Nile, to Memphis, almost six hundred miles, and they carried their mistress over so many leagues over the hot deserts, and the porphyry courts of her Egyptian home, and yet they are not worn out. Made of the most fragile material—the soles formed of strips of palm-leaf, neatly fitted together and turned with bands of the stem of the papyrus, prettily lined with red-colored linen with a queer looking picture painted on it and a little gilt ornament at the ends of the curved points—these slippers have outlasted the stone temples and palaces that stood so gorgeously in the old Egypt, and they still stand among their new-born majesty. They are more than three thousand years old, is it not wonderful? And more wonderful than anything else about the story is—that it is a "true story."

One bright morning P'ta, who was a princess, was dressing to go out. A dozen maids were running hither and thither for her jewels, her best robes and her sandals, while a dark-eyed girl stood plaiting her long black hair. Ever and anon P'ta would look at a little hand-glass of silver to see the effect.

"There, Luxora, that will do," she said to her tire-woman, as the tress at her left side, plaited with gold thread, dropped from the slave's hands. "Now bring me that saffron-colored robe, with the golden belt and straps. Oh, yes, that collar of pearls and those armlets and bracelets and with lazuli and turquoise. Nay, Nefertu, not those, but the sandals ornamented with the head of Mother Isis."

The girl addressed as Nefertu blushed, hesitated, and at last stammered, "My mistress I can find but one of the Isis-headed shoes; its mate is gone."

"Thou hast mislaid it—but no matter; though barefoot do I go today, for I will wear no other," declared the princess.

"Say, my lady, it were not seemly," cried her maids.

"Did not my great-grandmother, Nitaker, go barefoot a whole year and a day because there were no shoes small enough to fit her? And am I not a princess, too? I say barefoot will I go until I get a pair I fancy."

On her way home, the princess stopped at a cobbler's shop, near the Sacred Way. With a deft hand the tradesman headed her in a pair of slippers, which four huge Libyan slaves bore whenever she went abroad.

On her way home, the princess stopped at a cobbler's shop, near the Sacred Way. With a deft hand the tradesman headed her in a pair of slippers, which four huge Libyan slaves bore whenever she went abroad.

On the next day and the next royal couriers spread proclamation, offering the throne to whoever could produce the mate of the magnificent sandal which the eagle had brought the king. P'ta, in her distant quarters, heard the great tidings, and, beautiful and dainty as a white lily, came in Memphis in answer to the king's appeal. She walked up the mighty pillared portico of the Pharaohs with a graceful air, and stood before Hameses, fairer than the great Queen Ankhese when she wooed Thutmose. One party foot was bare, the other glittered with the jeweled sandal, whose mate the king held in his hand.

Hameses kept his word. When the next moon flashed its splendor on the Nile it shone too on the marriage toilet of the great Pharaoh and his lovely bride. The bright-winged temples anointed with Hymnations. Merry feasting made the palace a scene of delight. The dark, towering pyramids looked down upon a land that was laughing with joy, for P'ta had found her slipper and with it the diamond of Egypt.

If you were to visit the British Museum, at London you would see the Princess P'ta's shoes—the jeweled slippers that the eagle carried from Thebes to Memphis. P'ta never wore them after she became Pharaoh, but when she died they were put on her feet and buried with her. A few years ago her mummy was exhumed, and there were the wonderful sandals which the old story-teller told us about in his big book.

Regular Meeting of the Council Held Last Night, With the Usual Routine Business.

ONLY ONE ORDINANCE WAS PASSED

All the councilmen except Mr. H. H. H. were at last night's meeting of the city council.

The regular bills were allowed and one ordinance was given final passage. It is for the improvement of Thirtieth street from Broadway to Jefferson, to be completed by June 1.

Sam Leland's prayer for damages for injury to a horse by stepping through a bridge was referred to the city attorney.

J. L. Jones, after some discussion and a protest from Mr. C. W. Morrison, representing residents, was granted a coffee house license at Eleventh and Burnett streets.

Several deeds to lots in Oak Grove were presented by Chairman Jackson and ratified.

Chairman Bonbrant, of the park committee, reported that the Funtun park addition would require 1000 feet of open wire fence with four turn stile gates if enclosed, costing $140. It was decided to enclose the plot.

In regard to the disinfestation of sewers recommended by the board of health, Chairman Smith, of the sewerage committee, read a report referring the board to the ordinance governing the sewerage, which covers the case.

The matter of extending the sewerage out Broadway to the new school house and railroad hospital was brought up, but Mayor Lang said the city attorney gave it as his opinion that nothing could be done until Paducah got into either of the second class, and no action was taken.

Further time was granted the street committee in regard to extending South Ninth street from Highlands up and North Tenth street.

The question of purchasing an aerial ladder truck was referred to the finance and fire committees with power to act.

After the presentation of a petition containing 1040 names, the council sustained Councilman Davis' motion to have brought in an ordinance creating the office and defining the duties and compensation of a milk and meat inspector. The ordinance cannot be effective before June 1, when the new tax levy begins.

The matter of exchanging an alley for right of way for street near the Cross creek dam, was referred to the street committee, Councilman Smith and Mayor Lang.

The motion of Councilman Hanson ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance for the extension of Trimble street from Fifth to Fourth, which necessitates a fill.

The erection of small houses on the right of way of North Eleventh street was referred in the street committee and engineer.

Mayor Lang was authorized to buy 600 feet of 24-inch pipe for draining Oak Grove and West Trimble street into Perkins creek.

The mayor was authorized to put in a claim of $20 against the railroad for overcharge on freight on two dynamites. The factory notified him the freight was $25, while the city had to pay $75 when the dynamite came.

The placing of lights at Third and Madison, Sixth and Clark and First and Washington was referred to the light and water committee.

The matter of opening an alley between Broadway and Jefferson, Twelfth and Thirteenth, was referred. The Ferguson, Palmer bill of $150 for extra firemen at the fire some time since was referred.

Mayor Lang recommended a new market house of brick, two stories, the upstairs of which might be used as a town hall for public speaking, etc., the present wooden sheds to be supplanted by one-story brick additions. Councilman Olson, of the public improvement committee, concurred in the recommendation, and was authorized to ascertain the approximate cost of such a structure.

The council adjourned.

SEVERELY HURT.

W. W. WHITE'S CONDITION FROM A LASHING WORSE THAN WAS THOUGHT.

Reports from Fulton today are that W. W. White, of Newbern, Tenn., the youth so severely whipped there Saturday by a mob with a leather trace, is seriously injured, and may die.

Yesterday's Fulton Leader says that on the train White's condition became so pitiable from the beating that he had to be placed in a car to himself. He began to have spasms and was frenzied at times, imagining in his delirium that a mob was about to hang him. A physician was telegraphed for and boarded the train at Mc Kenzie to relieve him.

ATTRACTIVE WOMEN.

All women sensibly desire to be attractive. Beauty is the stamp of health because it is the outward manifestation of inner purity. A healthy woman is always attractive, bright and happy. When every drop of blood in the veins is pure a beautiful flush is on the cheek. When the blood is impure, morose, and temper and a sallow complexion tells the tale of sickness, all too plainly. And women today know there is no beauty without health. Wine of Cardui cures women with beauty and attractiveness by making strong and healthy those organs which make her a woman. Try Wine of Cardui, and in a month your friends will hardly know you.
